

No Need to Amend Ohio's Constitution

Did you know:

- Abortion in Ohio is legal for up to 22 weeks for any reason.
- Even after 22 Weeks, a woman can still get an abortion if her health or life is at risk. So why amend Ohio's Constitution?
- The ACLU and Planned Parenthood sued Ohio's Heartbeat Law, and a Hamilton County judge ruled it violated Ohio's current Constitution. So why amend Ohio's Constitution?
- No law has ever been enacted or introduced that would restrict miscarriage care or the removal of a baby who died in utero. So why amend Ohio's Constitution?
- In the last 50 years, a law has never restricted adults' access to contraception. So why amend Ohio's Constitution?
- No Democrat or Republican in the history of the Ohio Legislature ever introduced a bill that would restrict, deny, or hinder a woman of any age from continuing her pregnancy. So why amend Ohio's Constitution?

Go to ProtectWomenOhio.com and find out what the ACLU, Planned Parenthood, and Physicians for Reproductive Rights are genuinely after. You owe it to yourself and your minor children to know what's at stake if ISSUE 1 becomes a Constitutional right in Ohio.
